BULLS THREW STOCKS OVER

Encouragement Over Money Situation Dissipated.

CALL WENT TO 7 PER CENT

Prices Went Down Very Easily Until a Sudden Upward Spurt In Southern Pacific During Last Half Hour. Bond Market Was Weak.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The feeling of oncouragement professed on Saturday over the money situation, as indicated by the bank statement, was dissipated to lary. When call money rose to 7 per cent. the discouraged bulls began to throw over trocks, and there was evidence of considerable liquidation by tired holders. Pricess west down very easily and there was no appearance of effective support unta a sudden upward spurt in Southern Pacific Juring the last half hour. The marking up of this stock to 63 was so characteristic of the drastic special in Southern Pacific Bourley of the manager of the marking and the second in Southern Pacific that the series took right and covered in the series took right and covered insuly in various parts of the market. Union Pacific shared in the late raily as Southern Pacific shared in the supposed efforts which were making all discouthern Pacific. The progress of the New Haven system of the employes of the New Haven system of the employes of the New Haven system served to keep alive the labor public. The proposition for New York to provide its own street lighting plant caused sharp losses in the local gas stocks. The selling pressure seemed particularly severe against New York Central, for what reason was not disclosed. A decline of 11 points in New York Chicago and St. Louis first preferred from the preceding sale market for dormant securities.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch,)
NEW YORK, March 16.—The Mail and Express says: Apprehension of labor troubles growing out of the situation in the New Haven and Chicago and Alton roads and the demands for increased wages, formulated by some mill operatives in Rhode Island, were practically the dominant influences on to-day's stock market, although other unsettling factors assisted in bringing about the decline that ensued. Labor agitation is always due around the first of May, but the fact that it has set in this year much earlier than usual rather intensified its effect on speculative sentiment.

The London market, like our-own, was unsettled and lower, and this was one of the factors in the local situation, particularly as the foreigners gold about 30,000 shares. Americans abroad were affected mainly by uneasiness as to the outcome of the Southern-Union Pacific contest, and this was reflected in considerable sales of Union Pacific. This contest also entered into consideration here, both Union and Southern Pacific being sold with some freedom at intervals. The return to active use in the loan market of the bonds called in on Friday last to meet the dividend payments by Standard Oil and Consolidated Gas caused an easier opening for call leans, but the rate subsequently rose above the legal standard, and this led to some general selling by commission houses.

subsequently rose above the logal standard, and this ted to some general selling by commission houses.

The Commercial-Advertiser says: Today's market was under pressure from the putset. There were indications that the bear' party after resting on their oars during the closing days of last week had resumed operations, particularly against the shares involved in the Southern Paclife were very weak in London, and the rest of the American department showed losses of a half point from New York's closing parity. Undoubtedly, the orders which depressed the early London market originated mainly on the word of the content of the content

The Evening Post says: Prices for stocks broke heavily in the early hours to-day, the Pacific railway shares leading the decline.

Towards the close much of the loss was regained, the mooment. NEW YORK, March 16.—The opening of the stock market was irregular and a little heavy, although the decline in London had less effect than might have been expected. There was some evidence of pool protection in the important groups, and the commission houses did not seem to have any selling orders of importance. The traders were rather hearlsh.

CANADIAN PACIFIC:
Canadian Pacific opened lower on the expected new #10,000,000 slock issue. It was thought, however, that the company would not have much difficulty in raising the money in London.

AMALGAMATED COPPER:
A. C. P. gave evidence of some profit-taking, probably for Boston account. This was due in some mergine to the conser-vative advices from London and the be-lief that the advance in the price of the stock had to a large extent discounted the possibility of a 4 per cent. dividend basis.

PRIE AND READING:
The Eric issues were heavy and were sold for foreign account, but Reading acted well, and, apart from the expected good showing of the February earnings, seemed to have a rather strong bull crowd, and was helped by the small minority stock available for street purposes.

UNION AND SOUTHERN PACIFIC: Union Pacific sold off under pressure from traders who were encouraged by the development of realizing for foreign account. London has shown rather more nervousness than this market on the question of the Southern Pacific dispute and the realizing represented their attitude. The stock seemed to be pegged in the neighborhood of 91, and the banking interests associated with the control got the credit for the buying. LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE:

The small Louisville and Nashville bull pool ran up the price early and seemed to be getting more stock than sympathy.
The prices eased off as soon as this buying terminated.

NEW YORK CENTRAL WEAK:
New York Central was weak on what looked like well-informed selling, infuenced by the New Haven strike and the indifferent outlook for the new financing.

ST PAUL SOLD BY WESTERNERS: There was a renewal of Western selling There was a renewal of Western selling of St Paul, and the operators belonging to that class were bearish on the stock as well as on the general market.

Railroad News.

Mr. R. T. Adams, famed throughout Virginia as manager and conductor of the Norfolk and Western "Trilby" exoursions, again appears on the turf after an absence of several months, with a scheme by which he proposes bringing into Richmond over the road with which he is connected a thousand or more sight-seers from Farmwille and Norfolk. Each will be run on Easter Monday, and the train from Norfolk will stop at all intermediate points to gather the folks. For several years past Mr. Adams has been conducting regular on the day following Easter Sunday similar excursion as to the ones he has just completed arrangements. By a host of people living on the Norfolk and Western the news will be received with pleasure, as it is nothing more nor less than a forerunner and a guarantee that the celebrated "Trilby" junkets will be continued throughout the summer.

The return of the excursion trip season will be welcomed by the merchants of oursions, again appears on the turf af-

he agreed with Dr. Howland that the suicide theory was untenable. Dr. Marcy was sharply questioned on this suicide statement and telling why this suicide statement and telling why he made it, said:

"Well, I shought it would save Burdick's good name. I saw him almost disrobed lying on the couch, and I saw the lunch on the table, and it all looked very shady, especially as the dworce proceedings had been started."

Witness said Mrs. Hull had not asked him at any time how Burdick had been killed.

killed.

To Justice Murphy, Dr. Macy said he was of the opinion, judging from the lunch, etc., that Burdick's murderer had grown out of the divorce proceedings. He thought he had a woman visitor there.

lunch, etc., that Burdick's murderer had grown out of the divorce proceedings. He thought he had a woman visitor there.

In response to Attorney Hartzell's questions, Dr. Marcy said she had come to the conclusion that Burdick was killed between midnight and 1 o'clock in the meraing.

"When you first looked at the body did you see the wounds on the head and brains scattered about?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you had the idea that it might be a case of suicide?"

"Well, I did not know. I had not considered."

"The fact that there were pillows pillel upon the body was confirmation of your theory?"

"Oh, no."

"Did you ever know of a man to commit suicide and then pile pillows on his body?"

"No, of course, not."

The examination of Dr. Marcy ended at this point. It was not as severe as had been expected.

Ratie Koenig, a domestic in the Burdick family, told in desalt of the evening herilaning with the arrival of Mr. Burdick with a cocktail bottel, which she had not seen since he took it into the kitchen, substantially af published heretofore. She had never heard a quarrel, and did not know that the relations of Mr. and Mrs. Burdick were strained until after the murder.

INTERESTING FOINT.

Attorney Hartzell brough out the interesting fact that the gas in the hall and the den was lighted by an electric apparatus; by pressing a button the gas could be lighted. By pressing another hutton it was extinguished. On the night of the murder it was found that the electrical arrangements in the den did not work. An investigation showed that someone had turned off the gas in the den lighted of the pas in the den lighted of extinguishing it by means of the button.

not work. An investigation showed that someone had turned off the gas in the den instead of extinguishing it by means of the button.

The attorney's purpose in bringing out this fact was to show that whoever was in the house on the night of the murder was not familiar with the electric arrangement for turning out the gas.

William V. Delahunt, the cabman who took an unknown man from in front of the Tifft House to the corner of Ashland Avenue and Bryant Street the night of the murder, told his story.

"Did you afterward see Arthur R. Pennell in the district attorney's office?" asked District Attorney Coatesworth.

"Yes, str."

"When you were asked in my office if he was the man you had taken to Ashland and Bryant Streets, what was your reply?"

"I said I could not toil. The coat and he was the man you had taken to Ashinal and and Bryant Streets, what was your reply?"

"I said I could not toil. The coat and hat looked the same. I could not swear that it was Pennell."

Hackman Jeddo toid of taking a party of three on the night of the murder from the corner of North Division Street to the corner of Ashiand Avenue and Summer Street. In the party were a man, a woman about thirty years old with light, red hair, and an older woman. At Summer and Main Streets the man and the older woman left the cab, and he took the younger woman to the corner of Summer and Ashiand Streets. She walked down Ashiand Streets. She walked down Ashiand Street in the direction of Burdick's house, He saw the same woman about two hours later down-town, but could not say whether she was the same woman he had seen on West Tupper Street.

Patrolman Meyer told of meeting the lone woman near the Burdick home at the Afficent the merning of the murder.

Patrolman Moyer the Burdick home at 1:10 A. M. on the morning of the murder. He would not be able to identify the woman again if he mot her.

The hearing was adjourned until to-morrow afternoon.

A SINGULAR QUESTION

Question as to the Right to Erect a Monument Over a Grave.

At the meeting of the Council Committee on Cemoterles last night an opinion was read from City Attorney Pollard on the right of any person to erect a slab or monument over the grave of any near relative or triend in the event the bursh was on the lot of another. He holds that the committee has absolutely no authority under the premises, and the matter is one for the courts to pass upon.

The question arose several weeks ago, when the keeper of Oakwood Cemetery appeared to get advice on a case similar in overy respect to the one cited. He stated that some time ago Miss Nancy Dabney was interred upon a lot in the burying ground belonging to Mrs. S. H. Waring, and that later he had received a letter from Mrs, Waring cautioning him that no monument must be erected over the grave.

The keeper did not know what to do and sought the advice of the committee. They were equally as doubtful, and the matter went to the City Attorney for an opinion.

The Eyening Sun says: Speculative Wall Street was this morning confronted with a number of circumstances which led the professional traders to adopt the short side of the account with considerable unanimity. To begin with, American stocks were sharply depressed in the London market, and were, in fact, exceptions to the other departments of that murket. It was pointed out that the Union Pacific interests undoubtedly control directly and indirectly a clear majority of the Southern Pacific stock, and should the Union Pacific be enjoined from young
